

Weekend of Heartwork

Sarasota, FL

June 21st - 24th, 2012

Heartwork is a simple, direct, powerful, yet gentle tool for opening fully to one's life. Both a counseling approach and a way of living, Heartwork serves to resolve problems at their core, and to open the "heart of compassion."

What do you want?
What do you really want?
Peace? Love? Freedom? Joy?
And are you willing to do whatever you need to do to get it?

In a Weekend of Heartwork you will have an unparalleled opportunity to see into and move through the barriers that prevent you from having what you REALLY want in your life. In this life-changing event, we use a combination of meditative, psychotherapeutic, and experiential tools to let go of old, self-defeating ways of seeing/being, and re-create our lives the way we truly want them to be. In addition to getting what you came for (even if you don't believe it's possible!), your life will forever change as a result of experiencing what happens when people come together with a commitment to openness, honesty, and getting what they and each other really wants.

The Weekend of Heartwork is facilitated by Dale Goldstein, LCSW, Director of the Heartwork Institute in Rochester, NY. Dale is a licensed psychotherapist who has been actively exploring, since 1966, the uses of meditative, healing, and psychotherapeutic tools in the process of opening the heart/mind - primarily through Zen, work with Toni Packer, and, since 2000, the Diamond Approach. Dale is the author of "Heartwork: How To Get What You Really, REALLY Want," available on our website at www.awakentheheart.org. The Weekend of Heartwork is residential and will be held at the lovely Dayspring Conference center near Sarasota, FL, starting at 7:00 pm on Thursday, June 21st and ending at 1:00 pm on Sunday, June 24th.
